

NURSE PRACTITIONER – PALLIATIVE CARE
Lead, inspire, make the difference

In this changing environment we at Nelson Tasman Hospice are committed to being leaders in our field, ensuring availability of timely and equitable palliative care to everyone in our region who would benefit. Having a highly motivated Nurse Practitioner as part of our specialist palliative care team is a critical part of achieving this aspiration.

Our multi-disciplinary team is skilled, enthusiastic and dedicated to delivering optimum patient care. The Nurse Practitioner further extends our reach with advanced clinical expertise and leadership across community settings.

This is an opportunity to use your learning and passion to further refine and develop what we do as we respond to a changing palliative care environment. Current challenges being faced by the healthcare sector can feel overwhelming; however, our diverse urban and rural region offers the opportunity to achieve a balance – big enough to offer challenge while small enough to measure the impact you make.

People choose to live in Nelson Tasman for the lifestyle, weather, outdoor adventures, wine and food. However, we understand there is more to this picture. Having worked so hard on your education you are going to want to realise your potential and make your mark. Your perspective and contribution will be valued here.

We welcome expressions of interest from both qualified candidates and those in their final year of study. Hours of work can vary from 0.5 to 1.0 FTE to suit individual circumstances.

If you're keen to know more, we'd love to hear from you. Applications are welcome until 23 June 2019.
