

A graphic showing two hands, one above and one below, holding two red kidneys. The background is a teal color with faint leaf patterns.

Palliative Care in Renal Failure

People with advanced renal disease experience wide ranging physical, psychological and social symptoms in their disease journey. Typical treatment options are often limited while renal failure itself creates unique symptom patterns. This webinar will use case based discussions to highlight some common symptoms and discuss practical management strategies for those with advanced renal disease. Please join Dr James Heaton and his panel as they explore and reflect on their experiences in this area.

Time | Wednesday 22nd May 7.30am - 8.30am

Who | GPs, Pharmacists & Palliative Care Professionals

Register | via Zoom here or email learning@hwa.org.nz

Dr James Heaton is a palliative and geriatric medicine advanced trainee working with Hospice West Auckland. He has an interest at the intersection of chronic and palliative care. He is committed to providing high-quality care alongside the multi-disciplinary team to meet patient's and family's needs throughout their disease journey.